

THE SOCIAL DETERMINANTS OF HEALTH

DETERMINANTS OF HEALTH

Access to healthy living conditions like food, exercise, employment, health insurance, education, and a supportive family determines whether a person is healthy

The Washington Center for Nursing is a nonprofit working to ensure Washington State has enough nurses now and in the future to keep our population healthy. Research behind the social determinants of health helps shape our work and who we work with. For more information, visit WaCenterforNursing.org, 3d.dgimeetings.com/about-the-summit, www.who.int/social\_determinants/en/