SO YOU WANT TO BE A PROFESSOR WORKSHOPS

Washington State needs more nurse educators!
Can you envision yourself teaching nursing students at a community college, university, or as a clinical instructor? Jump-start your journey with this unique workshop!

The WCN is committed to creating a strong and diverse nurse faculty workforce. So You Want to be a Professor is a half-day Zoom workshop that introduces participants to nursing education as a career and the different and surprising paths nurse educators can take.

Via Zoom | Thu, Oct 28, 2021 | 9 am-1:30 pm | Cost $50

The application period is open through Oct 1, 2021. Space is limited so apply early! Accepted applicants will be notified the week of Oct 4-8, workshop fee due upon notice of acceptance to the workshop.

Who should register? Practicing nurses and nursing students from underrepresented communities interested in pursuing the nurse educator path.

This workshop will:
• Identify the requirements and competencies to teach in a nursing program.
• Describe the roles and expectations of a nursing professor in teaching, research, and service.
• Discuss the paths to becoming a nurse educator in Washington.

Meet the Workshop Presenters:

Bevan W. Briggs, DNP, ARNP, NP-C
Academic Director, Assistant Clinical Professor
Washington State University College of Nursing at WSU Tri-Cities

Stephanie Macon-Moore, DNP, MSN.Ed, CMSRN
Nursing Education Program Administrator
Walla Walla Community College – Clarkston Campus

Lena Hristova, DNP, ARNP, AGCNS-BC, CNE, OCN
Associate Professor of Nursing
Seattle Pacific University

Kim Tucker, PhD, RN, CNE
Director for Nursing Programs
Columbia Basin College

This nursing continuing professional development activity was approved by Oregon Nurses Association, an accredited approver of the American Nurses Credentialing Center’s Commission on Accreditation.

Scholarships available! For more information on scholarships, or the workshop, contact Frank Kohel at info@wcnursing.org
To learn more visit, WCNursing.org
This workshop is made possible by a grant from Premera Blue Cross